Seniors Will Hold Dinner Dance Dec. 4

Bids Limited to 59 — Seniors Get First Choice—Is Held In Oakland

Friday evening, December 4, is the date set for the Senior-Dinner Dance to be held at the Lake Merritt Hotel. Barbara Smith has been chosen general chairman of the affair.

Bids were put on sale yesterday, with high seniors having first choice and later were open to low seniors. Tomorrow the sale will be thrown open to the entire student body. However, the amount of space is limited and there are only 59 bids available.

Miss Smith announced that deposits or full paid bids were the only way that they would be held. No I.O.U.'s or promises will be taken.

In having the dance over in Oakland, it will give many Staters their first chance to cross the Oakland Bay bridge. With this new convenience, it will not delay the home trip so much as the ferries have in the past.

Dinner will be served first, with dancing to follow in the beautiful Lake Merritt ballroom overlooking the lake. Jess Stafford's orchestra will provide the music.

Assisting Miss Smith will be Genevieve Murphy, Dolores Waters, Hal Beseman and George Teale. The high senior class, headed by Johnny Goodwin, will be the honored guests at the affair.

Bids will be $2.29 a couple and this will include the dinner as well as the dancing.

Because of the very reasonable price, it was decided to hold it across the bay.

Membership Drive Begun

The Advisory Council is starting its drive for members this week. Beverly Guichard has been selected as chairman of the membership committee.

Qualifications for membership are: "C" average, high Freshmen or Sophomore standing, leadership ability, pleasant personality, and a willingness to work. The new members will be notified before the Christmas vacation.

After the Christmas holidays, on January 10, 1937, Dorothy Basch, vice-chairman of the Council and social chairman, is planning, with her committee, an "Inaugural Party" in honor of new officers and new members.

Election of officers will be held December 8 and 9 in Dean Mary A. Ward's office. The following people have been nominated: Chairman, Kay Bailey, Shirley Senk, Carola Beetz; vice-chairmen, Alice Dawson, Dawn Wilson; recording secretary, Beverly Guichard, Eleanor Walsh, Adele Hopper; corresponding secretary, Marguerite Bellis; A. W. S., June Ransom, Dixie Drake; historian, Helene London, Evelyn Genzer.

The Council voted to have the election held before the Christmas holidays so that the new cabinet may get together and outline the activities for their term of office.

At the last meeting a speaker, representing the Student Body Office, spoke to the Advisory Council. The speaker's purpose was to encourage the members to speak to influential friends that may help in obtaining new buildings. The Advisory Council is eager to cooperate and assist on President's Day.

Guest

John Goodwin, president of the high seniors, whose class will be entertained by the low seniors.

Seniors Plan To Discuss Examinations

Seniors have been concentrating on every effort in order to complete the requirements necessary to take the local Civil Service exams for teachers to be held in the near future.

Meetings will be held daily by the group, with the assistance of several faculty members to "brush up" on some subjects. The meetings will start the first Monday after the Thanksgiving holidays, announced Johnny Goodwin, class president and organizer of the group.

"The high seniors are very grateful to Dr. Brown for getting enough C. T. A. applications for all. And to top off, he will have Mr. Gridly (C.T.A. secretary) come for you to meet personally. If you are ready to join the California Teachers' Association, see me as soon as possible or drop me a note in Box 808," stated Goodwin.

The exact date of Mr. Gridly's arrival will be announced later.

A.W.S.-A.M.S. Plan Rally

Further plans have been made for the A. W. S.-A. M. S. mass rally on December 3 from 11 to 1. It is not to be held in the gym as previously announced, but in Frederic Burk Auditorium, according to Mike Driscoll. There will be free cigarettes, hot dogs, ice cream and candy striped peppermint candy sticks for everyone.

To add to the Yuletide atmosphere, there will be a Christmas tree, trimmed in cellophane and lights, which will be put in College Hall after the rally. The A. M. S. will raffle off A. M. S. pins, and the A. W. S. either A. W. S. pins or compacts.

The two committees, headed by Peggy Clifford and Mike Driscoll, include for the A. W. S. Betty Brown, Victoria Regier, Esther Regier, Betty De Voe, and Lois Towle. Those on the A. M. S. are Don Amos, Grace Gustafson, Lee Scarlett and Louis Abrams.

The acts, of which there will be fourteen, include Frankie McKormic, singer, Gloria Stokes from Balboa, by popular request; Frank Baker with his Punch and Judy show; the Three Sophisticates, Bob Saunders from the St. Francis Hotel, and possibly Eddie Fitzpatrick. The backfield of the football team, including Bill Harkness, Bill Abbey, Bob Kelnhofer and Dave Schiller, are going to sing a quartet number.

Xmas Varsity Dance Held In Gym Dec. 9

Stag-Stagette Idea Big Feature — Football Awards Given At Dance

President's Day, December 9, will be climaxed with a Christmas Varsity Dance from 9-1 o'clock in the gym.

A Christmas theme, and a stag-stagette idea will be carried out. The price will be 15 cents with Student Body cards and 25 cents for outsiders. The dance, sponsored by the A. W. S., is to honor the football team and present the varsity awards.

The committee for the affair, headed by Dorothy-Jean White, includes Bill Ferem, Darryl Hopkins, Virginia Kyriaza, Frances Lynn, Bob Prather, Victoria Regier and George Teale. The committee for decorations is composed of Lois Towle, George Teale and Victoria Regier, chairman. Frances Lynn is head of favors, and George Teale is head of music.

The favors will include balloons from Shell Oil Company, gum and maybe candy. A campus band will supply the music. Tickets, in the form of Christmas bell tags, will go on sale next Monday. A grand march will start the dance to carry out the stag-stagette idea. A Paul Jones and tag dances will also be featured.

Dorothy-Jean White said that a large crowd should be expected because of the luncheon in the afternoon to honor the legislators.

A.W.S. Council Dinner Held

Twenty-one council members, Dean Ward and Dr. Michell, attended the A. W. S. council dinner held in the Russian Tea Room last Wednesday night at 6:30.

A long floral piece graced the table, which was situated on the balcony overlooking the tea room. Novel place cards with modeled Russian figurettes added to the decorations, which were arranged by Betty Brown, Harriet White and Marie Travalera.

Everything contributed to the Russian atmosphere. The waitresses were dressed in colorful costumes and wore jeweled headdresses. The medieval paintings on the walls and ceiling were done in black, red and yellow.

With a corner of the balcony as his headquarters, an astrologer gave readings for fifty cents. A Russian orchestra, composed of four stringed instruments and a piano, and several Russian daneers, in brilliant costumes, provided entertainment.

BUILDING DRIVE PROGRESSES
PRESIDENT'S DAY PLANS LAID

Sacramento Assistance Is Secured

Student Organizations Will Cooperate In President's Day Activities

Preliminary skirmishing on the Building Campaign front met with unexpected success when it was learned that Senator Walter McGovern and Assemblyman Hornblower had already signified their intention of backing the drive to their full power in the legislature. Others who have been contacted by letter during the past week will be heard from soon is the belief of the committee.

An investigation conducted by the student committee revealed the fact that the demands being made by the school are moderate in the extreme and fall far short of the amount actually promised for building activity by the legislature. The amount being recommended by Dr. Roberts is $733,000, which will cover the erection of a new library, a new gym, the completion of Roberts' Stadium, and other improvements amounting to $83,000.

However, according to records for the past ten years covering financial recommendations of the legislature, the amount actually promised to the college is $1,300,000. This total would include sufficient funds to erect a new administration building which, according to student leaders, is the crying need of the college at the present time. Committee heads late yesterday confirmed the belief that the full amount would be asked citing the fire trap hazard of the present wooden structure which endangers both valuable college records and the lives of hundreds of students.

N.Y.A. RULES ON DECEMBER QUOTA

N. Y. A. students may work from November 27 to December 26 on the quota of hours assigned for the month of December. The number of hours assigned him depends on the amount of work available. Faculty members are asked to have information on this point into Dean Ward before the holidays, so that assignments may be made before the 30th of this month.

Notice from the Executive Office of the N. Y. A. saying that no student may receive pay in any month for hours that have not been worked.

Urges That You Support

President's Day

By Signing the Petition to Be Circulated This Week

EDITORIAL

Support: That is the keynote of San Francisco State's campaign to rid itself of conditions that are a disgrace to a metropolitan college.

Already rallying to the cause are a few far sighted legislators who have made known their determination to back this campaign to the very limit.

Yet these far-sighted men will have to have your help, your support. It must be an old cry by this time, yet it is mandatory that we impress these facts upon you. Your support will be the major weapon that will move the legislature to action. Your protests, personal if the need be, are one of the prime means of impressing the facts upon the powers at Sacramento.

Your protests, the protests of your parents and friends, these are valuable weapons to forestall any attempts of other state colleges to step in out of turn and garner the cream of the appropriations.

Junior Prom Sets Record In Bid Sales

Saturday's Junior Prom set some new State records in going over the top, financially, to the tune of over $130.00.

At noon Friday, on the day preceding the affair, sales of tickets had reached close to the limit allowed by the size of the Colonial Ballroom.

It was about two o'clock when Howard Demeke, president of the class, asked that Leo C. Nee stop further sales, as the crowd could not be accommodated over the 300 bid mark then reached.

On the whole, the Prom was well handled by the officers of the class. A limited number of early arrivals were admitted for the increased price, but this too was stopped when it became evident that the numbers would be too great for enjoyable dancing. Howard Demeke stated that he wished to congratulate the members of the various committees and the class as a whole for the Prom's remarkable success. He also thanked the student body for its cooperation in putting the affair over.

Graduates to Hold Luncheon

Those of the graduate students who like variety in their eating and entertainment will be enthusiastic about the dinner committee's choice for the A. B. dinner to be held Wednesday, December 2.

The place chosen is the Russian Tea Room, which is located at 326 Sutter street. Dinner will be served at 6:15 p. m. for fifty cents per person. Russian music and dancing are a regular evening feature at the Russian Tea Room. There will be entertainment by club members as well. Directions as to how to get there are as follows: Take an "F" car at Stockton and Market streets. Get off at Sutter street and walk down one-half block.

Preceding the dinner Mrs. Anna U. Cooch, sponsor, will conduct an excursion to the War Memorial Art Gallery. This will take place from four to six o'clock in the afternoon.

City Papers Join College In Campaign

Students Will Ask For Over Three Million Dollars Building Allotment

With preliminary arrangements virtually complete, plans for President's Day on December 9 entered a later phase of development last Wednesday. The important Contact committee, whose function it will be to interview all members of the Assembly, Senate and Board of Supervisors residing in the bay area, was appointed on that day. It is composed of 34 students from all different lines of activity at the college. Members of this committee will work in pairs, calling personally on a list of some twenty persons in San Francisco and Oakland. There are also organizations and clubs to contact.

Harold Martin, publicity director of the college and in charge of outside publicity on the event, reported that the local newspapers had become interested and were cooperating to put the affair over.

Full support of the faculty was assured at the last meeting of the Board of Deans, when Ed Cockrum and Howard Demeke presented facts of the coming program. An enthusiastic reception was accorded the campaign.

Bib'n Tucker has volunteered the services of its members to act as hostesses for the visitors. Music Federation will supply appropriate music both at the luncheon and at the later formal presentation, according to Gus Smith, president of the group. The Advisory Council will be asked to take care of the serving and the A. W. S. are scheduled to do the decorating. The Freshman class under Bill Ferem has volunteered to act as a clean-up committee after the luncheon.

Block "S" men will act as guards to exits from the campus during the four hours of the affair and will not permit anyone to leave the grounds.

A transportation committee is being organized to make sure that the visitors have transportation to the college. Ed Cockrum and Howard Demeke were strong in urging that all who have cars available on that day offer them to the committee, because a great many would be needed to handle the situation adequately.

Demeke also stated that every student in the school should appoint himself a committee of one to write letters to any one of influence he happens to know who might have a bearing on the matter.

Registrar's Office

All candidates for Education 130 or 131 next semester who have not filed application already must do so at once, Mrs. Alma Downey, placement secretary, stated today. Failure to apply for admission by the Thanksgiving holidays will make it impossible for them to take the medical examinations.

Notice To All January 1937 Graduates

All prospective graduates, whether or not they have already conferred with Miss Pearl Nielson, former placement secretary, should make an appointment with Mrs. Downey in the near future in regards to placement service.

FROM THIS SIDE

By BILL BUCHAN

The fight is progressing. The battle for the new buildings was heightened this week as one state senator and two assemblymen signified their determination to get behind this move to relieve conditions on the campus. Their support is heartening. It means that the college will have friends at Sacramento.

It will mean that we must assist these forward-looking legislators. A flood of protest must still storm the representatives before they go to Sacramento in January to pass on the appropriations.

We cannot urge you too strongly to get your parents, friends and organizations interested in this battle. It isn't as if we were seeking something that we aren't deserving. Promised $1,500,000 for buildings over a period of nine years, San Francisco got $230,000. Nine years we have sat passive and watched other state colleges getting their share. Now that conditions are reaching an impasse, we think it is time for relief. It has become more than a mere waiting for "turn." It has become a definite need. We are facing a crisis.

What the outcome of this fight will be, we don't know. It will mean one thing, though. San Francisco will be heard from very definitely. We will become more than just a college. We will be the college that could protest loud and long at downright rotten conditions.

We can't pull any punches. We are making a fight for all or nothing. From the looks of things it's going to be one grand scrap. We advise you to dig in, it's worth it.

Honor versus?

Elsewhere in this issue of the Golden Gater you will find a letter signed by Edward Cockrum telling of the contemplated plan for dealing with cheating in examinations. It seems that the little vestige of the honor system at State must go by the boards. Instructors will now refer cases to the student board of control for jurisdiction.

The fact that the student board of control will handle the cases is splendid. But why can't the honor system be given its rightful place? Why must the instructor take over the duty of policeman as well as instructor?

In other colleges the honor system works. It becomes something to value. Under the present system of instructor-police the game is to outwit the instructor. The psychology of the person cheating is this: "Well, he's here trying to catch me, I'll give him a run for his money."

This system of instructor-police smacks of high school.

Youth, Pioneer or Laggart

We have become interested in an act to be presented to the State legislature by the youth of California. It is to be called the California Youth Act and will be an expansion of the National Youth Administration act into a bill that will not limit work to the few that the National Youth Act can take care of at its best. It will provide the difference between just getting by on an N. Y. A. check and being able to come to college fortified by the fact that an adequate income will cover most of your needs.

Our interest in the act was heightened by the students of this college. We believe that this college has a higher number working than most of the other colleges in proportion to the ratio of enrollment. If this act is effective, it should make it so much easier for the students of the college.

In connection with this act we were amused to find that the editor of the Guardsman, San Francisco Junior College official publication, declared that it would pamper youth and would make them lose all the firm vigor and vitality that has marked the advance of youth throughout the history of this nation.

The very joke is that this is being carried on by the impetuous youth of California.

It is as one wit declared, he must be of the pre-Roosevelt era. An individualist no less.

Yearbooks Again!

Forgive us, we're going off on a subject dear to our heart, yearbooks. We've worked on one, and we work with the editor of the Franciscan. Undoubtedly one of the hardest and most ardous jobs of any campus activity, the editor of a yearbook has to be practically superhuman to attend to the myriad details that go into the making of this pictorial history of San Francisco State College.

It isn't an easy task to put out a book that will be a real annual on the budget that must be held to at San Francisco State. Yet, this year the annual will compare with some that will cost twice and three times as much. This isn't our observation. It is the observation of trained men, men that know fine printing.

Like all student body activities, you play a major part. It is your subscription that is the basis for every plan, every detail that goes into the book. Without your subscriptions to guarantee a certain number of books, many of the fine details will have to go by the boards to compensate. Your subscriptions then, are the insurance policy upon which the annual is built.

Thots While Strolling the Campus:

The height of frustration: looking over last week's paper to see what we wrote in our own column, and finding out we didn't! * * * How many have noticed that Ev Parrish and Marvin De Poister look more alike than Marvin and his twin brother, Paul? * * * Who is the cute blonde girl named Rosemarie Haas that Jimmy Chestnut seems interested in? Is he the reason she won't attend the Alpha Phi Gamma convention at Los Angeles? She went last year—because cause of Harry "Plato" Marks, we're told. Competition's keen, Jim! * * * Big moments in Collegiate life: the first time in the history of State that a class has sold every available ticket for its dance! * * * Word from reliable sources tells us that Bob Collier isn't half as nice to his little sister as he should be. "Well," as someone said, "a prophet is without honor in his own home." * * * We've got the edge on the Daily Stater—they may be "daily" but we are at least accurate—(most of the time). In this, for instance—Bill Smith and Clarice Dechent have agreed to disagree. Both were at the Prom with other parties. However, they remain the best of friends, as all sensible people should. * * * Keep your eyes on Max Williamson, managing editor of the Tuesday issue of the Golden Gater. His personality and perseverance will take him places. (Yeah, but where?) * * * Kappa Delta Tau's newest applicants, so we hear, are Bill Harkness, Bill Ferem, Darryl Hopkins and and Ed Cockrum. In case you're not sure, K.D.T. is the girls' dance society. * * * President's Day is our big opportunity to help State. Do your part—you'll be proud of yourselves in a few years—when we have a new campus!

* * * * * *

Predicament:

The Spanish matador who couldn't throw the bull because some one gave him a bum steer.

Side-Slants at the Senior Dinner:

More fun! Where? At the "cocktail" 'party preceding the Senior dinner at Girard's. Angelina Brovero was the hostess and no one was in the mood for anything so prosaic as a dinner, after. The "Ruth-Rechter-Dottie Jean White Special," which was the hit of the evening. * * * Things never to be forgotten: Harry Post's fond farewell, outdone only by Clem Zanninni, who didn't miss anyone. You know, love thy neighbor! * * * Seems the Mayor is thinking of changing the name of the street Harry lives on to "Post Road."

Junior Prom Peeks:

Rather disappointing to find almost as many outsiders as State students at the dance. * * * Talk about foreigners. We got stepped on in six different languages! * * * Among those we bumped into: Jerry Kenny and Montana Farley, George Mirande and Jerry Sullivan, Harold Thompson and Eva Datson, Merle Conant and Lou Morrison, ad infinitum. (Who's he?) * * * Surprise of the evening: Seeing Dr. Kinnaird and his attractive wife among those present. He may now teach the Cal Aggies, but he seems to have State at heart, still. * * * Bill Harkness, Shirley Canning and Rosemarie Haas looking really collegiate in the paper "mortar boards" they got from the main dining room. * * * Sorry we can't say the same for Gwen Smith and Lee Scarlett. Either their heads were too big or the hats were too small. * * * Overheard: "This is really cough medicine, honest.—Just listen to this. (Cough, cough)" * * * Ed Smith and his girl friend from Sonoma, doing the Dime Jig. Hey, hey, you kids! * * * Kenny McGrew doing fancy steps with Dolores Mohican. (We thot the last one died long ago.) * * * Harry Haswell was supposed to be with Beverly Guichard, but apparently Pat Forman changed his mind, somewhat. * * * Bob Chamberlin and Al Cartwright looking like somebody (Don't ask who) in their tuxs. A little bird told us that the ladder—we mean, latter, is engaged, but maybe that bird talks too much. * * * Dolly Sonderup and Bill Plutte, arming it along the balcony. * * * Problem: How to put three hundred people in the space mean for two hundred. Solution: More people are crazy than anybody. * * *

* * * * * *

Add Simile:

As sly as the streetcar motorman who was always trying to throw people off the track.

TYPES OF MEN

Heaven will protect the working girl, and how she needs it. After all this typing of the women here's one right back at the male of the species.

Now there's the type who comes to the home of the fair damsel, and never spends anything but the evening. At that he's doing a favor according to him, himself and he. He talks of how good he is, and what a swell football player he was. The only position he ever played was an A-1 davenport tackle. Just the two of you are so cozy, says he, and so contented. Contentment with him would be just about as endurable and exciting as Einstein's theory of relativity.

Tell me how to endure the Don Juan. He was just born to be loved—Heaven's gift to woman. Romance and poetry are his line; moonlight and magnolias his setting. He'll never marry anyone—my no, that would deprive too many women of his breathless charm and fatal fascination.

Collegiate Harry—Rah! Rah! He's just bubbling over with personality. Although his puns are old, they never get a chance to become stale or stagnant. He airs them too often. You can depend on him to get blotto at a Women's Christian Temperance social.

Then who could forget the would-be Fred Astaire? He dances divinely—on your feet. He sings divinely—on the wrong note and a flat key. He's doing every girl a favor when he takes her to the village shuffle spots and does his stuff. Of course the girl is all to blame if she can't follow his lead. He couldn't be wrong.

And what could we do without "Old Faithful." Always there when ueeded, too attentive to be funny, and too, too ready to agree with you. You've known him all your life, so there's no mystery about him.

There you are! Take your choice. But—make mine spinach. That is, at least, till the next irresistable man—different from all the rest, comes along to hold the center of attraction for the next few months.

THE SAGA OF JOHNNY STATE

I had just ten minutes to make my eight o'clock class after I had finished shutting off my new electric alarm clock. You see I live in the Berkeley foothills and State College is way over in San Francisco on Buchanan street. By the time I had finished dressing and had swallowed a hasty breakfast the original time had narrowed down to eight minutes. I dashed out of the house and hopped into my trusty old twelve cylinder Ford and in a few seconds was rattling down the arterial boulevard which took me directly to the new transbay bridge. At times when I wasn't in such a hurry I took the old bridge as it was cheaper and the traffic wasn't as heavy. But this morning I would have to take the new one, which had been opened just before Christmas. The toll was a dollar a car on this one.

On the old bridge you could take your time, sometimes loafing along at a mere seventy miles per hour. That was what I liked about it. On the new one, however, the minimum was a hundred per and most drivers travelled faster than that.

I streaked past the toll station at better than a hundred and twenty and could see the automatic license plate recorder and high speed camera, which recorded the number and picture of every driver who passed it. The old fashioned way of collecting tolls by hand had been done away with way back in 1942 and the new credit system installed then. Hence there were no traffic delays for collections. You simply got a bill at the end of the month for the number of times you had used the bridge. The camera recorder made the system foolproof.

THEATER

From Hollywood comes word of three major productions soon to be shown on the screens of San Francisco theaters. They are "Lost Horizon," the first picture by Ronald Colman since the "Tale of Two Cities." It will be one of the season's major productions, with the budget reaching into the million mark. Its director will be Frank Capra, director of the famous "It Happened One Night."

Set for earlier release to San Francisco fans is Bing Crosby's first picture away from his home lot. "Pennies from Heaven" is labeled as a grand comedy with Bing singing five new songs. The supporting cast includes Madge Evans and Edith Fellows.

Irene Dunne blossoms as a comedienne in her latest picture, "Theodora Goes Wild." It concerns her half-a-dozen near divorces in an attempt to get her man.

Intramural Squads Seek Hoop Crown

Teams Dubbed With Fantastic Titles — "Muscle Men" and "Peanut Vendors" Best

Intramural basketball, incubator for embryonic State hoopsters, is being played with all the old gusto in the Girl's Gym on Mondays and Tuesdays from 12 to 1. Intramural sports often reveal potential stars of court, gridiron and cinder-path. The present "Round Robin" basketball games being waged on the campus should uncover several prospects for Dan Farmer, State hoop mentor.

The "Muscle Men" and the "Peanut Vendors" look to be the class of the present campaign. The Kinesthetic Males have taken the Block "S" aggregation down the line in a startling upset. George Paiva and Don Baim looked best for the Muscular gentry and Frank Ryan, Al Thompson and Frank Collins starred for the losers. The "Peanut Vendors" won from the "Junction Inn Boys" by default and came on to claim a decisive victory over "Dans Dead Heads." For the "Goober Peddlers," Bill Ryan and Barney De Bisschop turned in the best job of ball handling. Bill Harkness, erstwhile football great, flashed distinctive form for Daniels Deceased Craniums. The "Dead Heads" are credited with a win over the "Flying A's" by default.

In the offing, ready to pounce on any unwary team that happens their way, lurk the "Don Juans," a tough aggregation who have yet to meet a rival on the court, but who boast of an outstanding lineup, which includes Bill Ferem and Bill Hammond.

According to to Al Cartwright, intramural manager, all games start promptly at 12:15 and consist of two nine minute halves with two minutes intermission at half time. All games are played in the women's gym and all provide a thrilling hour of good rough and tumble basketball. State's manager Cartwright, "Come out and root for your favorite team. The boys aren't grand-standers, but they naturally like to be cheered on to victory. Eat your lunch in a ringside seat at super-excellent basketball games and get the vocal chords in trim for the regular basketball season."

Track Team Looks Good To Mentor

Cox Predicts Freshmen Will Cop the Interclass Meet About February 27

With twenty-five new freshman prospects for track, Coach David Cox predicts a State College track team that will turn in a record in keeping with traditional State College track performances. Cox even predicted that the frosh team would cop the interclass track meet about February 27.

New freshman prospects in the weights include Bill Ferem, Dick Quarg and Holloway of grid fame, and Albert Luntz, lanky student from New York.

James Hopkins, Bob Chamberlin and Errol Evans have shown ability in the sprints, while in the middle distances, are Bob Buickeroee, Don Morgan, Edwin Basset, Leslie Bailey and Bob Sweeney.

There will be no tryouts for the mile until the cross country grind in February, but Fred Kline shows promise.

In the high jump Don Morgan, Errol Evans, Albert Luntz and Leslie Bailey are slated to score, and in the hurdles Jack Madigan, Wallace Aitchison, Albert Luntz and Ira Braunstien.

Errol Evans, Elmo Randall and Churo Sakato show good possibilities in the running broad jump.

"W. A. A. Week" Held on Jan. 4

W. A. A. yesterday made known its plan to reserve the week of January the fourth for "W. A. A. Week." A series of events that backers enthusiastically prophesy will be "super-colossal."

The tentative program is as follows: A Badminton exhibition will be presented by off-campus players, a evening social of both men and women, a health clinic for girls, and an exhibition volley ball game offers an opportunity to those interested in seeing how real volley ball is played. The players are hand-picked, and undoubtedly will put on a fine game.

The week will be rounded off with a mixed roller skating party for everyone.

The dates for these events will be announced later. All are urged to come out and have fun.

Juniors Win From Lowell By Narrow Margin of 22-24

It was the kind of game that you read about in books—the home team trailing by six points with two minutes left to play, and coming back in a whirlwind finish to win by two points. That was the setting of the game between State's Junior Varsity team and Lowell High varsity last Friday night in the gymnasium.

Finding themselves trailing Lowell on the short end of a 16-22 score with only two minutes of the game to play, State came back with a series of buckets by Joe Lee and Barney DeBischop to score eight points and take the game out of Lowell's bag. The final bucket of the game was sunk by Lee with only a fraction of a minute to go.

Even Game

The game was fairly even thruout the second half, each team making approximately the same number of buckets until the closing seconds, when State came through to pass Lowell. The first half, however, was all Lowell. At the half, State found itself trailing 7 to 13, and at one time was behind 11 to 2. After the half, the Staters seemed to hit their stride and allowed Lowell only five points during the third quarter.

The game was characterized by little scoring and few fouls. The total of all fouls in the entire game was only 13, State committing six and Lowell seven. The outstanding offensive players on Coach George Mirande's team were Joe Lee, Barney DeBischop, Frank Collins and Ronnie English. Outstanding for Lowell were Feerick, Marron, Keefe and Delos.

Lee High Point Man

The high point man for State was Joe Lee, with 10 points. The scoring for State was as follows:

Lee, R. F.	10
DeBischop, C.	7
Collins, L. F.	4
English, R. F.	2
H. Thompson, R. G.	1

Flying A's Lose Preliminary

The second of George Mirande's teams was swamped by sheer force of numbers in the preliminary to the Junior Varsity game. The victorious team in that encounter was the Lowell 130's. playing their first game this season. The boys from Lowell made their substitutions in wholesale lots, having a total number of 21 take the floor. The final score stood at Lowell 38, State Flying A's 21.

Outstanding on the Flying A's were Jim Hopkins, Bud Decker, Hal Delma, Verne Oulette, Biff Shreeve, George Paiva and Carruthers.

Constitution Change Fails In W. A. A.

Retention of Short Term Insured By Decisive Defeat of Bill

As a result of the defeat of the proposed amendment to the Woman's Athletic Association Constitution, the term of office will continue to be one semester. The president-elect will automatically attend the Athletic Federation of College Woman's Convention, which takes place in April.

This election result draws to a conclusion the discussions which have been under way for the last few weeks by members of W. A. A.

The two arguments which have been put forward are as follows: Those who are elected to an office in the W. A. A. find that this honor carries with it a great deal of work, and many of the members of the Association felt that if the officers held their positions for a year instead of a semester they could have time to become better adjusted to their office and consequently they could function more constructively.

The opposition held to the belief that the officers had a good background of information concerning their duties before they entered upon their term of office, and also a one year term of office would make it difficult for the girls whose practice teaching fell during the last part of their year of office-holding, to carry out the duties of their office.

CERCLE FRANCAIS PLAN CONTEST

Early in January, the French Club will present an oratorical contest in which they will invite the French Consulate, André Ferrier, director of the French Theatre in Francisco, and Dr. Helen Marburg, French professor of Mills College.

Students who are scheduled to speak in the contest are: Marie Quartararo, Ruth Hallowel, Harold Widney, Irene Ducasse, Mrs. Canelos, George Alves and perhaps others who have not as yet submitted their topics to Mme. Dony for acceptance.

Before the contest a dinner is scheduled at one of the leading French restaurants. So that they may discuss the contest, the French consul will be invited to the dinner.

The contest, club business, and recreation are conducted entirely in French.

Up to this time the French Club has not been active. So far this semester, two dinners have been given, one at the Pans Restaurant and the other at the Co-op, the night of the Chickens' Ball.

Veterans Heighten '37 Grid Chances

One Player Lost To Purple and Gold For Coming Football Season

By DICK OXTOT

Back next season with greater experience and polish will be State's football warriors who discarded their moleskins after the Santa Barbara game.

With the exception of Chet Phillips, right end, the entire squad which represented the Purple and Gold this year will be eligible for further competition, according to coach Hal Harden.

Freshmen Star

It is notable that the greater portion of this year's team was composed of freshman players. Bill Abbey, Bill Ferem, Dick Quarg, Dave Schiller are a few of those who were competing in their first year of football. Ru Stone also played his first football for State.

Coach Dan Farmer recently said that a player could not be at his best in his first year—that he is able to give a better performance when he is better adapted to the daily routine of the team and the college. From this it may be intimated that in 1937 the Gater mentors expect an improvement over the 1936 grid edition, which, incidentally, proved itself the best in State's history.

Off Days

This year's varsity had a couple of off days in which Marin J. C. ran wild by means of a Mr. Johnson, and Miramonte also showed a great deal of speed in the person of a Mr. Gilmore. It must be remembered, however, that this State outfit twice arose from the bog of a lowly under-dog position and scored with two resounding upsets over their greatest rivals, S. F. J. C. and Chico State.

In addition to the array of freshmen who will return to the wars next year as sophomores, there will be the present sopohomores and juniors of the squad, including the fiery captain, Bill Harkness, and next year's captain, Hal Beseman.

CLARENCE L. PHELPS GUEST SPEAKER AT REGISTRARS' CONCLAVE

Santa Barbara President Gives Talk On College Rules at Convention

"Some Challenges to College Organization" was the topic of President Clarence L. Phelps, of Santa Barbara State College, who was guest speaker at the Eleventh Annual Convention of Pacific Coast Collegiate Registrars, held November 8 to 10, at Sir Francis Drake Hotel, according to Miss Florence Vance, registrar.

President Phelps spoke on the challenging topics of accumulating credits contrasted with the study of a field with a comprehensive examination. The problems of independent study and varying rates of progress on the parts of the students also were taken up in his speech.

He said, "My own opinion is that colleges and universities can not go on much longer without a thorough and systematic evaluation of their activities." Dr. Phelps gave the registrars much material to think over, and also gave them three specific changes he thought necessary. First, a more extensive use of the plant; second, improved educational and financial conditions for students, and third, reduction in educational costs.

The convention began on Sunday evening, November 8, with an informal reception at the Sir Francis Drake Hotel. On Monday morning the convention was opened by Karl M. Cowdery, associate registrar of Stanford, and Dean Floyd P. Bailey of Santa Rosa Junior College, presided. The topic was "Admission and Credit Evaluation."

At noon the conference adjourned to Shanghai Low for luncheon, and at two in the afternoon Douglas V. McClaine, registrar of Whitman College, presided over the business meeting. The annual dinner was held at seven, with Jane Miller Abraham, registrar of Santa Barbara State College, presiding. At this time the Madrigal Singers from San Francisco State College sang under the direction of Miss Eileen L. McCall. At the conclusion of the program Dr. Phelps spoke.

On Tuesday morning the topic was "Activities Allied to Registrar's Offices," and Marjorie P. Walker, registrar of Whittier College, presided. The conference ended on Tuesday afternoon with the topic of "Counseling and Catalogues," presided over by Karl M. Cowdery, and a business meeting.

The new officers were elected at the meeting. They are president, Miss Bradly of Occidental College; first vice-president, Miss Oleson of the University of Idaho; second vice-president, Mr. Pallett of the University of Oregon; treasurer, Mr. J. West of San Jose State College; secretary, Mr. McClaine of Whitman College.

There were 86 registered delegates at the convention.

BRUSH AND PALETTE DESIGN XMAS CARDS

In order to discuss the possibilities of making Christmas cards and wrapping paper, the members of the Brush and Palette met last Thursday in the art room number 211.

Marge MacIntosh reported on types of cards that may be made on the mimeographing machine. Block prints were discussed by Doris Toulbee, who showed the finished cards and gave demonstration of her work. Dorothy Lavelle reported on sprayed cards and exhibited samples.

Wrapping paper made by using potato prints was reported on by Eleanor Radcliffe. She also gave a report on the prices of the materials and exhibited examples of each.

Dance Climaxes K.P. Convention

A dinner dance at the Hotel Oakland Saturday evening, November 28, will bring to a close the Kindergarten Primary Association Convention, which is November 27 and 28.

The Martha Jean Tea Room, the evening of November 10, was the setting and date for a dinner party which was attended by a large number of Kindergarten Primary Club girls. The excellent food was responsible to a large extent for the success of this event.

During the month of November every girl in the club plans to furnish entertainment at her home for a few of her friends, which will take the form of a small Bridge party, the proceeds from which will go toward supplies for the Kindergarten-Primary room in Frederic Burk.

An important meeting of the club will be held today at noon in Room 208.

BIB'N TUCKER TO HAVE ANNUAL SHOW

At the last Bib'n Tucker meeting, members of the club set the date for their annual fashion show which will be held December 3. They also discussed prospective speakers of styles and fashions. A theater party was held by the club Tuesday night at the United Artists Theater.

Journalists Attend L. A. Convention

Former Golden Gater Editors Enter Contest—Beta Phi Gamma Enter Also

Three members of State's journalistic fraternity will compete in an assignment contest to be given at the Far Western convention of the order in Los Angeles on November 27th, 28th and 29th. Regular newspaper assignments will be handed out by Frank Faude, copy editor of the Los Angeles Examiner, and each contestant will be required to write a news story, a feature article and an editorial. Winners will be given gold trophies and a 10 k. gold fraternity pin. There will be two divisions in the contest, one for Beta Phi Gamma, junior college affiliate fraternity, and Alpha Phi Gamma. Elsa Magnus, Will Smith and Erwin Bischoff, former Gater editors, will enter the contest. Judges will be Ed Ainsworth, State editor of the Los Angeles Times, and John Long, general manager of the California Publicity Association.

The program outlined includes a supper dance at the Biltmore Bowl, business session of Alpha Phi Gamma, a joint session with Beta Phi Gamma, and a dinner at which George McManus, creator of Jiggs, will speak. Lee Shippe and Ed Ainsworth of the Los Angeles Times will also speak.

At a final business session held Sunday morning, the local chapter will extend the invitation to all chapters to attend the National Convention to be held in San Francisco next year.

At various times during the convention editions of the Golden Gater for the past year will be submitted for judgment as to makeup, best editorial, and best news story. A chapter scrapbook will also be submitted for competition. The last named was compiled by Alice Marsten and her committee.

Harry Marks, a former Franciscan Editor and Director of Publications at State, will be placed in nomination for Western vice-president of the fraternity. Thelma Silvia, present western secretary, is also a former Stater.

Stanley Sieber is chairman of the convention trip. Mr. George Gibson, faculty sponsor of the local chapter, and Mrs. Gibson will accompany the group on their trip.

English Dept. Holds Second Monthly Tea

All Majors and Minors Get Personal Invitations To Affair

Through the medium of quaint invitations depicting a familiar Canterbury theme, the English Department announced its monthly tea for English majors and minors to be held in the Activities Room at 4:30 tomorrow afternoon, according to reports received from Mrs. Ruth Witt-Diamont.

The invitations were distributed on Friday, Nov. 20. Mrs. Witt-Diamont asked that all students who are majoring or minoring on any of the English studies, Journalism, Speech Arts or Literature be kind enough to report to the English Department in order that their names be included in the future mailing lists.

KAPPA DELTA DANCE, OPEN HOUSE, STUDIO NITE, FEATURE WEEK

Kappa Delta Tau, honorary dance fraternity held Open House with a "Studio Nite" last Monday evening in the gymnasium. A large number of parents and friends watched the junior and senior group of Kappa Delta Tau take part in a practice hour and then present a program of individual and group numbers.

Miss Eleanor Ely, director of senior group, led the class lesson, which consisted of varied technical movements climaxed by a group presentation of the movements in a dance. Marjorie Miller, Frances Abraham, Shirley Canning and Lois Roberts were the featured dancers in the last number.

Howard Brubeck and Douglass Kidd, winners of the Chicken Ball contest, were guest artists for the evening. They presented the ever-popular "Shortnin' Bread" and one other number.

Alice Marsten, Kappa Delta Tau president, said, "We are indeed grateful for the splendid co-operation of these two artists.

Lois Roberts then presented a dance number, "Blue Monday," which describes wash-day and all that goes with it. This number was followed by a waltz with Helen Frank, Lois Roberts, Shirley Canning and Audrey Stewart as the dance couples. Helen Frank concluded the program with a Czecho-Slovakian dance. At the conclusion, refreshments were served to the guests and members.

OPEN LETTER

Nov. 10, 1936

Dear_____

The Associated Students have been informed through the offices of the Dean of Men and Dean of Women that the practice of cheating in examinations is fairly widespread. Atthis time the Student Board of Control is ready to take suitable action on any case reported to it. Would you kindly report any case occurring in your classes together with the pertinent circumstances to me?

Hoping that I may cooperate with you in this and any other matter concerning student action I remain,

Sincerely yours,
EDWARD COCKRUM,
Chairman of Student Board of Control.
